

TO PROBE COFFEE PRICES: EISENHOWER

Eisenhower Backs Dulles in Big Four Talks

Says Will See That Dickenson Gets Justice Done

By MERRIMAN SMITH
United Press White House Writer

WASHINGTON (U.P.)—President Eisenhower today backed Secretary of State John Foster Dulles 100 per cent in his negotiations with Russia at the Berlin conference.

The President also told a news conference the government will investigate whether high coffee prices violate U. S. laws.

He said Rep. Robert L. Condon (D-Calif.), anonymously accused of communism, should be given every right to clear himself if this nation is to have decency and justice.

In a 35-minute meeting with reporters, the President also said the "gradual" flexible farm program he has proposed to Congress represents no shift in the position he took during his presidential campaign.

And he said that Secretary of Defense Charles E. Wilson will personally see that Cpl. Edward S. Dickenson, Korean war prisoner facing court martial charges, gets justice done.

Discusses Defense Contracts
The President was peppered with questions on a score of subjects. They ranged from the matter of defense contracts to defense contracts to a philosophical discussion of forgiveness, humanity, and justice, and a definition of his administration's aims.

As for defense contracts and his plan to channel portions of defense contracts into unemployment areas, he repeated that the great mass of defense orders will go out normally and that relatively small percentage of defense orders will be channeled into distressed areas must meet the lowest bids for the larger portions of the orders.

A somewhat abstract discussion occurred during questioning on the Dickenson case. Mr. Eisenhower was disturbed, he said, when he read of the arrest of the young Cracker's Neck, Va., soldier.

To suggestions that Dickenson might be tried only because of his original decision to stay with the Communists—which he later recanted—Mr. Eisenhower said the Biblical story of the prodigal son could be read with benefit. For those who come back, Mr. Eisenhower said, do not too harsh in your judgments. He said he thinks there must be something else in the Dickenson case.

No Report on Atoms-for-Peace

On international matters, Mr. Eisenhower said he has the utmost confidence in Dulles' wisdom at the Big Four foreign ministers' conference. Dulles and his British and French counterparts today turned down Russia's bid for a conference with Red China.

Mr. Eisenhower also said he has no report to make yet on Russia's attitude toward his atoms-for-peace pooling proposal. Dulles has conferred twice with Russian Ambassador Georgi N. Zarubin on the matter.

On domestic matters, he was asked why his administration had abandoned an earlier plan to ask Congress to stick to the 1-1-2 per cent social security tax on employers and employees.

Mr. Eisenhower said that at one point last year he favored freezing the tax at 1-1-2 per cent—it went to 2 per cent Jan. 1—but had come to favor the increase in order to extend benefits to more than 10 million additional persons.

West Rejects Soviet Demand For Conference With China

Dulles Proposes Conference Proceed Immediately with German Unification Problem

BERLIN (U.P.)—The West flatly rejected today Soviet Russia's demand for a Big Five conference on world problems with Communist China.

Secretary of State John Foster Dulles proposed, at the third session of the Big Four conference, that "no action" be taken on the plan of Soviet Foreign Minister Vyacheslav M. Molotov for a meeting with the Chinese Reds—"to strengthen world peace"—in May or June.

Dulles proposed the conference proceed immediately to the question of German unification. Dulles said Red China had shown no willingness "to bring about a solution... even of the Korea or Indochina question, or for that matter of any other Asian problem."

Device to Secure Regime
Also, he said, the Chinese Reds have nothing to do with the German and Austrian problems, which to the West are the ones to be discussed here.

Molotov had opened the meeting by proposing formally a five-power meeting to strengthen world peace, eliminate the threat of war, and develop friendly international relations.

Dulles told Molotov in the secret session which started shortly after 3 p. m. that a Big Five meeting with Red China is unacceptable to the West, even if limited to Asiatic problems only, before peace is established in Korea.

"It seems to us," Dulles said, "that the proposal for a five-power conference to include the Chinese Communist regime is primarily a device to secure for that regime a position in the councils of the world which it has not earned or had accorded to it by the international community generally, including the United Nations."

Dulles' British Foreign Secretary Anthony Eden and French Foreign Minister Georges Bidault had agreed before the meeting started that they would reject all demands for a conference with Red China.

This included any attempt by Molotov to bring the Chinese Reds into international conferences by the "back door"—that is, to get them included in world councils under the guise of a conference on Asiatic problems.

Rejecting Molotov's demand for the Big Five talks, Dulles said: "Certainly this four-power conference is not the place to decide that matter."

Molotov opened the meeting by proposing formally a five-power conference "in view of the need to strengthen world peace and to eliminate the threat of a new war, and in view of the need to create more favorable conditions to develop friendly relations between the nations."

The first thing to do in the way of a five-power conference, Dulles said, is for the Chinese Reds—and Russia—to stop blocking negotiations for a Korean peace conference.

Dulles, Eden and Bidault agreed fully this morning on their attitude toward Molotov's proposal. They agreed that after the Korean dispute has been settled they will tell the Russians that perhaps they might consent to talks with Chinese Reds on such specific issues as the war in Indochina but only with participation of the states directly affected.

Infant Dies After Hospital Refuses Entry
CHICAGO (U.P.)—Cook County Coroner Walter McCarron today promised to fix the blame for the death of an infant girl, scalded by hot oil but refused admission to a hospital because her mother could not pay cash-on-the-line.

McCarron said he would continue an inquest into the child's death next Tuesday and said "I can assure you representatives of the state board hospital licensing agency will be there."

Mrs. Irene Roberta Lingo, 23, testified at the inquest Tuesday that Woodlawn Hospital refused to admit her seriously burned 5-month-old daughter, Laura, Jan. 18, because the mother could not pay a $100 deposit on hospital bills.

"It's hard to believe this could happen in America," the coroner commented.

Gave Mother a Note
"We don't know who is to blame for this baby's death, but I promise you we intend to find out," he said later at his home.

Dr. Herman N. Bundesen, president of the Chicago Board of Health, said "I believe the little baby would have lived if she had been given the proper blood or glucose" at Woodlawn.

A representative of the hospital said his examination of Laura did not lead him to believe her life was in danger.

He was H. Jaeger, who said he was a graduate of a German university but has no Illinois medical license. He was on duty at Woodlawn when the child was brought there.

He admitted that he gave Mrs. Lingo a note admitting the child to Cook County Hospital, after applying saline and bandages to her burns.

Lingo said that because of heavy traffic it took her 1-1/2 hours to reach the county hospital. Laura died there the next day.

Young Veteran Admits Killing 15-Year-Old Girl
LEVITTOWN, Pa. (U.P.)—A 6-year-old girl gave police the clue which led to the confession of a young Korean War veteran that he raped and murdered her sister last Friday night.

The suspect, George Capps, 22, signed a confession Tuesday night that he criminally assaulted 15-year-old Martha Marie Gibbons and then shot her through the head when she "threatened to tell."

He was her neighbor in this "model" community.

Police said they got their first hint of the slayer's identity from the victim's little sister, Sue, who told them that Capps had come to their home the night Martha disappeared. Capps lived across the street from the Gibbons home.

Martha disappeared Friday night and her frozen, half-dressed body was found Monday morning beside an isolated quarry lake. Not until then did Sue mention that Martha had left the house with Capps, a Purple Heart veteran whose wife, Mabel, 21, is expecting a baby in a matter of days.

Capps re-enacted the slaying under the eerie glare of searchlights at the lake Tuesday night.

Then he asked for a priest and made his confession to him.

"Now I'm greatly relieved," he said after the confession to the priest. "I haven't slept since it happened."

His wife, pale and shaken and near collapse, then was permitted to visit him alone for a half hour. "I can't understand it. I just can't understand it," she sobbed.

Capps was arraigned on a first degree murder charge before justice of the peace John Melvin. He will have a further hearing Feb. 9.

First Atomic Battery is Demonstrated

Discovery May Be As Significant As Electric Light

NEW YORK (U.P.)—The Radio Corporation of America has developed the first practical method for converting atomic energy directly into electricity.

Brig. Gen. David Sarnoff, chairman of the board of RCA, demonstrated the "atomic battery" in his skyscraper office Tuesday.

He said it may prove to be as significant as Thomas Edison's conversion of electricity into light. The development was hailed by Sarnoff as a "major breakthrough" toward the goal of producing thumb-size atomic batteries that could supply electricity for at least 20 years without replacement.

He gave credit for the invention of the battery to Dr. Ernest G. Linder and Paul Rapoport, physicists on the staff of RCA's David Sarnoff Research Center at Princeton, N. J.

Power produced by the battery in Tuesday's demonstration was fed into an ordinary telephone amplifier and the resulting tone sounded faint but distinct through Sarnoff's office in the RCA building.

A telegraph key was hooked into the circuit and Sarnoff, who started his career as a telegrapher, tapped out two messages.

The first one was, "atoms for peace." The second: "Man is still the greatest miracle and the greatest problem on this earth."

Dr. E. W. Engstrom, vice president in charge of RCA laboratories said the development of the atomic battery is significant because it is the first direct method of converting radioactive energy into electrical power.

Senate Approves Korean Treaty
WASHINGTON (U.P.)—The Senate Tuesday overwhelmingly approved a mutual defense treaty with South Korea under which the United States would come to that country's aid if it is attacked again by Communist forces.

Before approving the pact 81-6, the Senate specified that it does not bind the United States to fight if South Korean President Syngman Rhee attacks North Korea in an effort to unite his country.

The treaty already has been ratified by the Republic of Korea. It will become effective when signed by President Eisenhower.

Wife Too Young, Hubby, 91, Gets Divorce
INDIANAPOLIS, Ind. (U.P.)—Charles Featherston, 91, won a divorce from his 65-year-old bride when he complained "she was too young for me."

His big chance came in the spring of 1948. Under the auspices of Columbia Artists management she was given the chance to audition for both Leopold Stokowski and Arturo Toscanini and her career was launched. Stokowski and "The Maestro" were impressed by the Hobson voice and personality and both chose her as soloist.

Under Stokowski she sang at Carnegie Hall in Debussy's "Blessed Damsel" on March 20, 1948; with Toscanini and the NBC Symphony she sang in the Beethoven Ninth on April 3, 1948.

With these two performances the girl from the little Nebraska town was well on her way to nationwide fame, and since that time Jane Hobson has more than justified her new-making start by brilliant concert tours from coast to coast across the United States and Canada.

While the youth was at large Tuesday she was placed under police guard because a girl Windsor had dated said he once remarked he would "kill my sister, too," if he ever murdered his family. He was "average or below" as a student, friends said.

Windsor showed little emotion and no remorse as he told how he shot down first his mother, then his grandmother, and then waited until his father came home before firing the third fatal bullet from his .22 caliber rifle.

All three victims were shot thru the back of the head. Windsor was fleeing to Texas when he was arrested here.

Two Herrin Theatres File $1,200,000 Anti-Trust Suit

EAST ST. LOUIS, Ill. (U.P.)—Two Herrin, Ill., theater operators Tuesday filed a $1,200,000 damage suit in Federal Court here, charging violation of anti-trust laws by 11 motion picture producing and distributing companies.

The suit charged the Herrin theaters were denied the opportunity to show first-run films until after they had been shown by competitive theaters in nearby Marion and West Frankfort, Ill., which are owned by the Fox Midwest Amusement Corp.

The Grand Opera Co. Corp., operator of Marlow's theater, and Marlow's Amusement Corp., operator of Marlow's Drive-in Theater, filed the suit.

Boy Captured After Killing Three in Family
ST. JOSEPH, Mo. (U.P.)—A 15-year-old boy, who murdered his mother, father and grandmother because they would not let him attend some wrestling matches, was in custody today because of a blunder almost as senseless as the crime itself.

The youth, Richard Wisdorf, made his getaway in a jacket decorated with the name of his hometown, Shelburn, Minn.

A shoeshine boy here, Floyd Kirby, 17, a Negro, matched the jacket with a newspaper story about the triple slaying and telephoned police. They arrested Wisdorf while he watched a movie home opera.

The skinny, thin-faced high school student readily confessed killing his parents and grandmother Monday because he was denied permission to attend the wrestling matches.

He added that his parents were "always griping when I came home late from school."

Friends of the family at Shelburn said they believed a possible cause of the shooting spree was Wisdorf's jealousy of his honor student sister, Antoinette, 19, a freshman at the College of St. Catherine at St. Paul, Minn.

While the youth was at large Tuesday she was placed under police guard because a girl Windsor had dated said he once remarked he would "kill my sister, too," if he ever murdered his family. He was "average or below" as a student, friends said.

Windsor showed little emotion and no remorse as he told how he shot down first his mother, then his grandmother, and then waited until his father came home before firing the third fatal bullet from his .22 caliber rifle.

All three victims were shot thru the back of the head. Windsor was fleeing to Texas when he was arrested here.

Teacher from Greece Addresses Kiwanis Club
Miss Jane Koufidaki, a teacher on leave from an Athens, Greece, high school and studying current methods of teaching in secondary schools in the United States and especially in Harrisburg, was a guest speaker at the Kiwanis club last night at the Masonic temple.

Miss Koufidaki says people of her nation have a high regard for America, which is not so with other European nations where the American tourists cause a misconception of the true America. She stated she is very favorably impressed with America through her contacts with students and other people.

Miss Koufidaki told of past invasions which her nation had suffered, especially the Nazi occupation and later the Communist terror. The aid Greece has received from the United States has caused her nation and her people to have a high regard for America.

Miss Koufidaki was introduced by Miss Alvina Shestak, history teacher at the high school who was also a guest of the club.

Past District Governor Ray Harper of Metropolis and Dr. Robert D. Korte, present lieutenant governor, also of Metropolis, visited the club last night. Robert Jones, a guest of his father, Glen Jones, and Bill Brashear rejoined the club.

Former Resident of Elizabethtown Dies

Generals Fail to Change Stratton's Mind on Guard Reorganization

SPRINGFIELD, Ill. (U.P.)—Two major generals failed Tuesday in an attempt to alter the Illinois National Guard reorganization plans of Gov. William G. Stratton, a one-time Navy lieutenant.

Gen. Harry L. Bolen, Cairo, and George F. Ferry, Chicago, spent 2 1/2 hours with Stratton arguing about his plan to merge the 33rd and 44th guard divisions, which they formerly commanded.

When they entered the governor's office, Bolen told reporters "I think there's a good chance the governor might reconsider."

But after the conference, Bolen reported Stratton still was "determined" and "convinced" that "one division is best."

"He gave consideration to all our ideas," Bolen said. "But I won't say he bought any of them."

To Make Further Study
The generals made another appointment with Stratton for Feb. 3. In the meanwhile, they said, they will try to work out an agreement "one division" plan.

"Our original plan for two divisions didn't quite fill the bill," Bolen said. "We're going to make further study of the one division idea."

Stratton announced Dec. 17 that he was merging the 33rd and 44th divisions into a new 33rd, to be headed by Clifford Hodgkin, Peoria, promoted from colonel to brigadier general.

Ferry headed the old 33rd consisting of units in Cook and Du Page counties. Bolen commanded the 44th, a downstate division just returning from duty in the Korean war. Both will be retired under the merger.

Stratton said the merger would provide as strong a military force at a saving of three million dollars in 1955-57.

Both Sides Pleased
But Bolen took issue with the arguments Stratton presented and strongly criticized the move. Ferry joined him.

Bolen resigned the day after the consolidation was announced and a number of guard officers and men followed him.

None of the parties to Tuesday's conference would give any details about what went on. But all acted pleased about the outcome, even though it appeared to be a Stratton victory.

Bolen said "a great deal of good was accomplished" and "we're very optimistic about everything."

"We made very fine progress—the governor's very happy and so are we," Ferry said.

Stratton said "The meeting was very constructive and very harmonious."

Bolen said he planned to consult with other officers of the 33rd and 44th between now and Feb. 3 on the "one division" plan.

President Says Inquiry Will Be Made by FTC

Senate Banking Committee Also to Study Speculation

WASHINGTON (U.P.)—President Eisenhower said today the Federal Trade Commission will investigate soaring coffee prices to find out if any U. S. laws have been violated.

The President said the FTC will keep in constant touch with the Justice Department, the prosecuting arm of the government, as the investigation proceeds.

Mr. Eisenhower spoke from a memorandum he received from the FTC. He said the matter would be explored in more detail at an FTC news conference later in the day.

He told reporters the commission chairman reported to him that trading in coffee futures had definitely affected the domestic price.

Production Cut Back
Mr. Eisenhower said the current coffee shortage actually dates back to heavy surpluses of the 1930s and a resultant cutback in production. Subsequently demand caught up with supply, he said, and adverse weather conditions in coffee producing countries further complicated the situation.

Mr. Eisenhower told his news conference that the FTC started a preliminary investigation Jan. 13 to see what the trouble was in the coffee price field.

After a preliminary discussion, he said, a full-scale investigation was indicated and will take place. The chief executive said the FTC, mindful of heavy domestic trading in coffee futures and the relation of this trading to the domestic price, will try to find out whether any law has been violated. He said the FTC will make all the facts available to the public.

The Senate Banking Committee also is going to look into charges of speculation in coffee prices, according to Sen. Homer E. Capehart.

"It's been my offhand impression that shortages and crop damage are mainly responsible for the situation," he said. "But I really haven't studied the matter."

Demands Mount
The Indiana Republican said his committee staff will check into the questions of speculators to see if there should be a full-dress investigation.

Demands for a congressional inquiry mounted as coffee prices climbed toward $1.25 a pound and experts predicted that the situation may get worse before it gets better.

The American Federation of Women's clubs meantime snapped up a Brazilian government offer to inspect frost-ravaged coffee plantations to see how coffee prices have been forced up.

The Brazilians invited the women, congressmen, newsmen, and labor leaders to Brazil "to see we are putting all our cards on the table; and that 'there is nothing hidden'."

Brazil, industry spokesmen, and a number of independent experts have maintained that prices have been driven up, not by speculators but by shortages, caused partly by the damage from did to the Brazilian green bean crop last year.

W. B. Tell, Rosiclare Businessman, Dies
W. B. Tell, 58, life-long resident and prominent businessman in Rosiclare, died yesterday afternoon in the Hardin County General Hospital.

He is survived by his wife, Helen, and a sister, Mrs. Addie Dunn, Brookport.

He was a member of the Masonic lodge, the American Legion, the Shriners and the Mississippi Valley Consistory.

Shade Grown Coffee
The coffee tree under natural conditions would grow to eighteen or twenty feet. For the convenience of the berry picker, the tree under cultivation is kept to six to eight feet. The plant needs a moderately tropical climate, rich soil with good drainage and plenty of rain. Frost is its fatal enemy. It requires sunlight, but is so sensitive to overexposure that it is often grown partly in the shade.

New Drugs, Techniques Reduce Army Disease

WASHINGTON — The Army medical service reports the disease rate in the armed services is steadily decreasing with the help of miracle drugs and new procedures and techniques in care and handling of sick and wounded soldiers.

During World War I, 41.5 of every 1,000 soldiers were not available for duty because of disease. During World War II the rate was reduced to 28.5 per 1,000 and in the Korean conflict to 18.4 for each 1,000.

Among the latest advances in the medical field, the Army said, is the removal of malaria as a threat to military operations and development of preventive psychiatry.

Battle casualties also have been reduced. During World War I the case fatality rate stood at 8.1 per cent for wounded soldiers. This was lowered to 4.5 per cent during World War II and 2.3 per cent for the Korean conflict.

During the Korean fighting mobile Army surgical hospitals played an important part in caring for the wounded and sick soldiers and lowering the death rate. One of the six units in Korea treated more than 50,000 patients during the three-year conflict.

GOP Believes Ike's Programs Will Survive Tough Sledding

By PETER EDSON
NEA Washington Correspondent

WASHINGTON — (NEA) — Republican congressional leaders concede that President Eisenhower's farm and labor programs will have the toughest sledding on Capitol Hill. It was therefore fitting and proper that the President opened his series of special messages to Congress with appeals for action in these two fields.

The official guess is that after the usual amount of criticism, squawking and yakety-yak, Congress will give the President about 85 per cent of what he asked for this year.

The Republicans believe that an accomplishment of this magnitude will be enough to convince the voters next November that an Eisenhower program has been passed.

The farm program is based primarily on a gradual shift to the flexible price-support system, which is a bitter pill for the fixed, 90-per-cent-of-parity-guarantee boys to swallow. But administration leaders say they have thoroughly investigated this and every other alternative—a two-price system, export subsidies, and putting off a decision for another year. The conclusion is that none of them is any good.

The flexible price-support system is the only thing that makes sense to the administration leaders. They are therefore prepared to push it through.

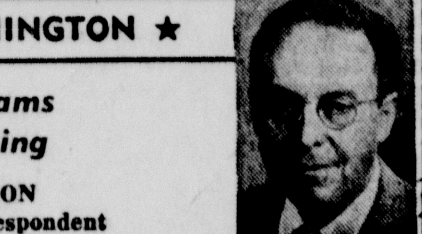

After allowing a reasonable time for congressional critics to blow off steam and make speeches in opposition for home consumption, GOP leaders are preparing to push for action.

The recalcitrants will not be brought into line publicly. The President has said many times that he doesn't like to jump on people.

PATRONAGE AS A CONTROL WEAPON

But the Republican leaders believe they now have the power to get their forces in line to support the President's program, by private but drastic control, through the use of such devices as the withholding of patronage.

The same political pressures will be used in getting action on the named a labor-management advisory committee to write a program. It blew up.

Former Secretary of Labor Martin P. Durkin then tried to draw up a series of amendments with the help of union leaders. When his program was turned aside, if not turned down, Durkin resigned.

His successor, James P. Mitchell, presided over the preparation of what has now emerged as President Eisenhower's message on Taft-Hartley amendments, with the help of nobody knows who.

Secretary Mitchell says only that it came as a result of a long series of conferences. He mentions Department of Commerce specifically, but nobody else.

"They are the President's proposals, and I'm in favor of them," says Mitchell bluntly. He says the President was merely stating a philosophy in his labor message.

He was not dictating legislation. Carrying out the President's ideas in laws will be left to Congress.

'Yield' Signs Prove Worth in Trial

CHICAGO — "Yield" signs may replace the traditional "Stop" signs in some communities, according to the American Municipal Association.

The association said Logan, Utah, has tested the new traffic signs for two years and found them an improvement.

The signs say "Yield the Right of Way." They are placed at intersections where the flow of cars in one direction is not heavy enough or constant enough to warrant ordering all cars to stop.

On approaching a "Yield" sign, the driver must slow down but may proceed without stopping if there are no other cars crossing the intersection.

At one Logan crossing, there had been 10 accidents during the year prior to installation of the "Yield" sign. Since the changeover, there have been only two accidents, the association said.

Logan city officials say that the "Yield" signs are not ignored as "Stop" signs frequently are.

Security Desire Cuts Enterprise

CHICAGO — A University of Illinois psychiatrist says one of the greatest problems of our time is to give people "reasonable security" without destroying their spirit of "adventure and enterprise."

"Whenever man has to expand all his energy for mere survival not much energy is left for experimentation with the unknown and for creation," said Dr. Franz Alexander, director of the Institute of Psychoanalysis.

Western civilization, he added, has been motivated by free expression of creativeness and by a trend toward exploration of the earth, nature, the universe, the animal and human body.

"There are definite signs of a slow reversal of this trend," he said. "The great depression of the 1930's can be considered roughly as the dividing line."

"There can be little doubt that a growing longing for security and the willingness to give up freedom and adventure for security characterized these past 20 years."

He cited polls showing that contemporary youth prefers modest careers offering security to those which offer possibilities for success but involve greater chances to fail.

"The constant threat of the cold war turning into a real war further contributes to insecurity," he added.

"The crucial question is whether we can pass through this temporary period of consolidation without destroying individual creativeness," he concluded, adding that the answer lies in "new frontiers of the mind—scientific research, artistic productivity—in general, a development of the art of living."

Father Admits Beating Baby Son

CHICAGO (AP) — A 19-year-old father has admitted beating his 3-month-old son because the infant stuck for a long time after being stuck with a safety pin.

The child was in poor condition at Woodlawn Hospital.

The father, George Gilmore, told police Tuesday he beat the child Sunday night while he was staying with the boy, George Jr., and a daughter, Deborah Ellen, 16 months, while his wife was out.

He said he stuck the child with a safety pin while changing a diaper and then beat the infant when he cried for a long period.

Fog Grounds Air Armada Searching For Socialite

GULFPORT, Miss. (AP)—A heavy fog over the Gulf Coast today grounded an air armada that was to search for John Farris Jelke III, socialite also heir who disappeared Monday night on a flight between Mobile, Ala., and New Orleans.

Search planes from four states waited for the soup-thick haze to clear before resuming the search for Jelke's missing Air National Guard F51 fighter. He was flying alone on a routine training mission, authorities said.

Jelke, a first lieutenant in the guard and heir to a three million dollar Chicago fortune, is the brother of Minot (Mickey) Jelke, who was convicted on a pandering charge in connection with the operations of a vice ring in New York.

Asks $25,000 In Damage Suit

Dallas R. Clary seeks $25,000 for injuries received as the result of a collision in a lawsuit on file in circuit court.

Clary asks the judgment from Ebba Glen Franklin in a complaint filed for him by Atty. Lloyd H. Melton of Harrisburg and Atty. D. L. Duty of Marion.

The complaint says the crash occurred on Route 34 at Rudement at 8:30 p. m. July 20, 1952.

YOUNG EAGLE—Barry Bevan, who turned 13 on Dec. 4, proudly displays a chest covered with Boy Scout medals which made him an Eagle Scout shortly before his last birthday. In Memoriam
In loving memory of Charles
Harrison Hankins who passed away
Jan. 27, 1950.

Now often do we tread the path.
That leads us to the grave,
Where rests the one we love so
dear.

But whom we could not save.
The rolling stream of life rolls on,
But still the vacant chair Recalls the love, the voice, the smile.

Of the one who once sat there.
Sadly missed by Mother and daughters, Bessie Harper, Ju-

USED CARS

Factory Over Production and Dealer Distress Selling of New 1953 Model Cars has forced the price of good used cars down to where they represent values at the highest level since World War II.

Come in and see these Values and you will understand why a lot of people who formerly bought cheap new cars are now buying the very finest used cars in the medium priced car field for far less than they would have to pay for a cheap new car.

State Department

Security Officer

Quits; Hits 'Fear'

WASHINGTON (AP)—An ace State Department security officer has abruptly quit his job with a charge the department is "permeated by fear and intimidation."

William D. (Bill) Huskey, in recent years guard for all top foreign dignitaries visiting the United States, told a reporter today he resigned because he felt it was "impossible" to work under former FBI agent Scott McLeod, department security chief.

Huskey offered his resignation last Friday in the midst of security planning for the current U. S. visit of Turkish President Celal Bayar.
The resignation was accepted as at close of business Monday. He had worked 12 years in the department's security division.

"I agree wholeheartedly with Joseph C. Grew and Norman Armour," Huskey said, "that the State Department is permeated by fear and intimidation."

Grew, Armour, and three other former high-ranking American diplomats recently made this charge in a letter to the New York Times.
A copy was sent to Secretary of State John Foster Dulles who later defended the department's security program.

Menard Inmates Aid Polio Drive; First Charitable Contribution

CHESTER, Ill. (UP)—Inmates of Menard State Penitentiary here have made their first contribution to a national charitable organization in the history of the prison.

The inmates donated $160 to the March of Dimes polio fund. Warden Ross Randolph said the inmates will be permitted to make similar contributions in the future.

Randolph pointed out that only about 200 inmates receive pay for their work in the prison. The pay averages about $5 a month.

The rest of the inmates contributed from money they were permitted to take into the penitentiary or from funds received from relatives.

Kinser Committeeman Candidate in No. 12

precinct.

Air Force Goal Is Geared to Small A-Bombs

WASHINGTON (AP)—Gen. Nathan F. Twining declared Tuesday that the United States has developed small A-bombs with a "terrific bang."

The Air Force chief of staff said this was one of the reasons the Eisenhower administration decided to shoot for 137 Air Force wings by the middle of 1957.

He said the other reasons were Russia's strides toward development of the hydrogen bomb and the decision to gear military strength to the long pull rather than for a "crisis year."

Twining, Defense Secretary Charles E. Wilson and Air Force Secretary Harold E. Talbott attended a news conference called to explain airpower aspects of President Eisenhower's new budget.

Wilson said the air force will get an increasing share of overall defense funds in coming years as a result of the "new look" strategy which puts greater emphasis on atomic and air power.

He noted that the Air Force is down for 40 per cent of the $31,000,000,000 in new military appropriations requested by the President in the 12 months starting July 1.

"I see no reason to think that trend (toward increased air force funds) has stopped," Wilson said.

He agreed that the Air Force was able to plan a considerable increase in its Air Defense Command without slighting its other chores because "atomic bombs are very much smaller in size and weight without losing any explosive power."

This means they can be delivered by smaller tactical planes capable of a greater variety of missions.

Snow Covers Midwest Areas

By United Press
 A blanket of snow glazed highways across much of the Midwest today, snarling traffic and causing a number of auto accidents.

At least three persons were killed in separate auto accidents in Illinois, Iowa and Nebraska Tuesday as a result of icy pavements. Several other persons were injured on slick highways in the Midwest.

The snow, two to four inches deep, spread from northern Missouri to Michigan and Minnesota. The heaviest amount fell in southern Wisconsin, eastern Iowa and extreme northern Illinois, as the storm moved toward Indiana and Ohio.

Meanwhile, cold air pushed southward over the central plains and central Mississippi valley. Temperatures were near or below the freezing mark as far south as extreme northern Texas and western Kentucky and Tennessee.

Sub-zero readings were reported in the northern plains, with Cut Bank, Mont., recording the lowest reading—21 below zero.

Bricker Amendment Headed Into Bitter Debate

By UNITED PRESS
 Hope for a compromise agreement on the Bricker Amendment all but vanished today as the Senate headed into what may be one of the bitterest constitutional debates of its history.

The proposed amendment would curb presidential treaty powers, and neither the administration nor Sen. John W. Bricker (R-Ohio) showed any signs of surrendering on the proposal's key principle.

So Senate Republican leaders drafted their own proposed substitute and began mustering forces for a fight to put it across. It is expected to propose merely that the Constitution be clarified to assure that no treaty can become operative if it is unconstitutional.

President Eisenhower has said he would not object to that. Senate GOP Leader William F. Knowland (Calif.) said the substitute probably will be made public later today but may not be introduced until later in the debate.

Farm Proposal No Change from Campaign, Eisenhower Says

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Eisenhower insisted today that the farm program he recently sent to Congress represents no change from the stand he took during the presidential campaign.

Mr. Eisenhower's program calls for a gradual shift to flexible farm price supports.

At his news conference, Mr. Eisenhower denied—as charged by Sen. Milton R. Young (R-N. D.) Tuesday—that he ever promised rigid, permanent maintenance of price supports at 90 per cent of parity.

Pope Ordered To Take Rest

VATICAN CITY (AP)—Pope Pius XII today was ordered to take an unspecified period of rest, to speed his recovery from aggravated hiccoughs, fatigue and a slight fever.

Vatican sources, in announcing the orders, said the period of rest was expected to continue at least for the remainder of this week.

They emphasized that the Pope's illness is minor and has caused no alarm.

Ben Helm put down his empty glass. "Oddly, it never occurred to me to kill Mrs. Larson and leave her body for a double murder to be pinned onto Paul Flagg. Or not so odd because even then he loved her."

"He put Larkin's body in the closet and carried the unconscious Mrs. Larkin out to his car, propped her up beside him and drove off. Mrs. Jones, looking out of her window, got only the blurred impression of a man and a woman in a car passing by."

Hannah was back on the arm of my chair and I leaned my head against her shoulder.

"Until well into the night Russ Handy drove around with Mrs. Larkin unconscious in his car," Helm went on. "He lives on the ground floor of a two-room apartment house."

"On Kegler Street where she was shot?" Hannah asked.

"No, quite a few blocks away. A driveway runs alongside of the house and there's a side door. The odds were large that nobody would see him carry her into his apartment, and nobody did. He put her on the bed and tried to revive her. He couldn't, but he wasn't too worried. He knew that people remained unconscious for days and sometimes weeks from a concussion."

"For four days, from Thursday evening to Monday evening, she remained unconscious. He had to go to work and participate in the investigation of the murder he himself had committed, and she might revive while he was gone. Whenever he was out of the house he tied her to the bed and gagged her. You can see what a burden and worry she was to him, but he didn't take the easy way out by killing her."

"The yesterday evening she revived. He had been away from his apartment longer than usual because Randolph had sent him to your house to find out about the supposed kidnapping of your son. He got in around 8 o'clock, and he found her tied to the bed and gagged as he'd left her, but this time her eyes were open, staring up at him in terror."

"Poor Dina!" I said. "Soon she was able to sit up and eat. He told her that the police were searching for her as a murderer. 'But you killed him,' she said. He said that that could never be proved. It was her word against his, and the police knew that she had tried to blackmail and that her husband had rushed after her. He would protect her, take her away to another part of the country. Selling her a bill of goods, of course, but it does show how much he loved her."

"Numbly she agreed. She was too sick to think about it. She lay on the couch and he sat with her, and after a while he went into the kitchen to make her tea. He heard her cry out. He rushed into the living room to find her hysterical. She had turned on the radio softly, probably to get the news and check on what he'd told her, and she heard that her son had been kidnapped."

Handy assumed Paul had the records. When he didn't turn them over to the police, Handy was sure Paul intended to use them for blackmail."

"Everybody's a crook," I said.

"Handy assured her that Paul Flagg would certainly get her son back safe and sound by giving up the records. She didn't reveal to him that she had hidden the briefcase and that only she knew where it was. She must have made up her mind to get out of there and use the records to save her son. Gradually she subsided and asked him to bring the tea. And while he was in the kitchen she ran out of the apartment."

I started to run my hands through my hair and found Hannah's hand there on my head.

"He loved her," Helm repeated "but as soon as she went through that door he knew he had lost her, and that he could save his neck only by killing her. There was risk in using his own revolver, but there was no other weapon at hand. When he reached the street, he saw her leaning against a light pole at the corner, evidently waiting for a taxi. None came. The street that late at night remained empty. She moved on, staggering, so weak that she could hardly stand. He tailed her, and when they were far enough from his house he put three bullets into her back."

Helm loaded his pipe. "The second murder had cleared you, Flagg, and he was aware that suspicion was now focused on somebody in the district attorney's office. When he heard you had the briefcase, he had to go after it to eliminate his fingerprints." A match flared and rose to Helm's pipe.

Hannah was beside me. Wherever I went she was there.

"But, Father," she said, "there will be a trial and the contents of the records will become known." "Not at all," he assured her.

"The court will not permit black-mail material to become public knowledge."

That Saturday I broke the news to Martha who said, "I'll bet she was the one who proposed to you." She reached for a cigaret. "But I've got news, too, Paul. I'm also getting married."

"To George Maudson?" "Of course."

"Swell," I said. "Would you like to buy my business?"

"I'm thinking of buying a house. It'll take every cent I can raise." "You can pay out of profits. It's a good business, Paul. You and Hannah and Joey will be comfortable."

Come and Get Prisoners,
Communists Told

PANMUNJOM — The Indian Command told the Communists today to come and get their 347 "prisoners," including 21 American "world peace fighters," at any time Thursday.

Lt. Gen. K. S. Thimayya sent a note to Red Chinese Gen. Lee Sang Cho, agreeing to turn over personnel records of his former wards to Chinese and North Korea Red Cross representatives.

In effect, Thimayya's letter said he did not care where the prisoners went and they were "free to go at any time."

"Even if they walk out," Thimayya said, "we will have nothing to do with them."

Thimayya withdrew his Indian custodial forces from the prison stockades at midnight Jan. 22 when, under the armistice agreement, all unrepatriated prisoners of war automatically became civilians.

However, a unit of Indians has remained in the area of the compound to maintain law and order. The Communists refused to take back the prisoners when the Indian custodial period expired on the ground that they should be held in neutral custody until a Korean political conference debates their fate for 30 days. conference has not been convened, although the Reds have called for a resumption of negotiations on their own terms.

However, in a face-saving gesture, the Communists agreed to turn the expatriates over to the Red Cross societies until the Korean conference discusses their disposition.

Therefore, sometime Thursday the Americans, one Briton and 325 Korean men and women will vanish behind the Iron Curtain.

Looking AT Sports

By ED KIRKPATRICK

We had a talkfest with Harrisburg Township high school's head coach, Lawrence Calufetti, the other day and found the new Bull Dog mentor both likeable and obliging. It's no easy task to build a basketball team in midseason, but Coach Calufetti has tackled the tough situation with determination and a good deal of hopefulness.

Commenting on his squad, the Bull Dog boss said: "The boys have a fine spirit, and they're working hard. We're taking some rough beatings, but I think the boys are learning. I also feel, considered as a whole, that we have a better shooting ball club." He was quick to add, with a grin, that he realized this hadn't shown up on the scoreboard, but he's hopeful the club will find itself.

And nothing would please Coach Calufetti more than to have just that happen this Friday and Saturday. "You can bet the boys will be out to win this All-Saline county tourney," he remarked. "And I know if we play ball, we can be difficult to beat."

It isn't hard to see, however, that Calufetti's "first love" sports-wise is football. He has made quite a record in the sport and has the physique required of a gridiron great. Calufetti played four years of varsity football in high school at Johnston City, under the direction of Coach Ralph Davison. He lettered each year, playing full-back.

He was named All-Conference in 1938 as a sophomore, elected captain of the team in 1938 and again in 1939. In 1940, his senior year, he was named All-Conference and also received honorable mention on the All-State football team.

Calufetti entered Southern Illinois university in 1940 and played first string from the outset. He was a regular during the '40, '41 and '42 seasons, captaining the team in the last year. In 1943 he joined Uncle Sam's forces and played with the Marine V-12 team at Western Michigan in Kalamazoo. He served with the 5th Marine Division until 1946, spending 18 months in the Far East.

Returning to the Southern Illinois campus in 1946, Calufetti arrived in time to play another season of football. He was graduated from the school in the spring of 1947, with a B. S. degree in Education and majors in physical education, health and social studies. For the next few months, he remained at Southern working on his Master's in Education. He joined the HTHS faculty as assistant football, basketball and track coach in the fall of 1948. In 1952 he took over the additional responsibilities of head track coach, and last month was elevated to the position of head coach on the resignation of Davison.

Calufetti is married to the former Lorine Lantrip of Johnston City, and they have two children, Lynda and Larry.

Archie Moore Meets Maxim In Title Bout

MIAMI — Light heavyweight champion Archie Moore, menaced by age and beset by wife-trouble, again risks his crown against dangerous Joey Maxim Tuesday night at Miami Stadium.

Their third title fight was expected to attract more than 20,000 fans and $100,000 because the bout "really caught on" during the past week, according to co-promoters Jim Norris and Major W. H. Peebles.

In this nationally-televised and broadcast 15-round, 37-year-old Moore of San Diego, Calif., again will attempt to spot six years to Maxim of Cleveland, from whom he won the title with ease in December, 1952, but who nearly laced him in their return bout last June.

Now—seven months later—can the old man of the ring still muster enough prowess to withstand a skilled, rugged opponent? Challenger Maxim, though not a knockout puncher, is a "cutie" and durable as a mule. Will Moore suddenly fold in Miami at 37, as Jersey Joe Walcott did at 39 in Chicago?

Ancient Archie was prevented from concentrating on the fight at the last minute by his wife, Alice. She hauled him into court and caused him to arrange a $10,000 surety bond to make certain he would answer her suit for separate maintenance after the fight. Mrs. Moore charged in the suit.

Eagles Defeat Zeigler for 10th Victory

Eldorado's Eagles picked up victory number 10 for this cage season at Zeigler Tuesday night, winning by a score of 74-63.

The Eagles led throughout the game, but never could build up a comfortable margin and Zeigler was always within striking distance.

Eldorado had a 17-12 lead at the quarter, was in front 33-27 at half-time and had a 55-45 advantage after three quarters.

Eagle Coach Al Adams received some unexpected scoring punch from Richard Banks, who came up with 14 markers. Banks, a 6 foot senior, had played very little this season, but last night hit the nets for six field goals and two free tosses to take second high scoring honors for the winners.

With Banks in form it will give the Eagles a big lift by strengthening their reserves.

Eldorado took the preliminary contest 69-47.

HTHS Freshmen Win Two Games

HTHS freshmen won two basketball games from Eldorado frosh at Davenport gym Monday night. A game between inexperienced teams was won by the locals, 50-39, and HTHS won a second tilt between more experienced lads, 58 to 50.

First game players: Harrisburg — Crews, Hicks, Feazel, Karnes, Parks, Aldridge and Healy. Eldorado — Patrick, Swears, Hedger, Coontz, Scott, Turner, Pritchett, Carter and Cawthon.

Feature game players: Harrisburg — J. Cummins, C. Cummins, Shewmake, Whitehead, Bottomley, Fulkerson, Jones, Henshaw, Stone, Ziegler, Eldorado — Mosby, Dempsey, Feaquay, Kingery, Bradley and Gwaltney.

Freshman Coach John VanderPlum said his frosh would play at Benton tomorrow night and be host to Herrin Monday evening.

Shawneetown to Crown Cage Queen

Shawneetown high school will crown its basketball queen in a special between-games ceremony Friday night at the Indian gym.

Members of the team will select the queen from among three senior candidates—Barbara Clevenger, Barbara Shook and Jane Boyd Young. Others who will serve as members of the court are Sherrill Davis, junior, Essie Biggerstaff, sophomore, and Margie Hise, freshman.

Shawneetown will play Pope County in a Greater Egyptian conference game.

that Moore failed to provide for her properly and that she is "deserted and penniless."

However, despite age and Alice, the odds-makers still expressed confidence in Moore's punch and ring mechanics. They favored him at 12 to 5 to keep the 175-pound crown. Should Maxim provide an upset, their title series will be extended to a four bout within 90 days by a return contract.

TEN YOUNG MEN AND THEIR COACH seem amused about something and maybe Bull Dog mentor Lawrence Calufetti, kneeling at right, has just told them something funny. Anyhow, the Bull Dogs are practicing this week for the first annual Saline county basketball tournament to be held at Davenport gym Friday night with Carrier Mills, Galatia, Eldorado and Harrisburg participating. Players kneeling left to right are Tony Beal, Dave Harrison, Charles Polk, Ronnie Riegel and Don Price. Standing are Richard Gidcumb, Dave Anglin, Gerald Wasson, John Wilson and Ronnie Williams. All are underclassmen except Riegel and Gidcumb. (Daily Register Staff Photo)

Wildcats Beat McLeansboro Foxes, 71 to 69

The Carrier Mills Wildcats served notice last night they are ready for the Saline County tournament by taking a 71-69 decision from McLeansboro. The game was played at McLeansboro and was the first loss of the season for the Foxes on their home floor.

Carrier Mills trailed throughout most of the game, and was nine points back with about six and one-half minutes to play in the final quarter. However, the "Cats kept plugging away and finally pulled in front as time ran out.

The score was knotted 16-all at the quarter. McLeansboro led 39-30 at half time and 56-50 after three quarters, then Carrier Mills outscored the Foxes 21-13 in the last quarter to gain the victory.

Scoring in the game was well distributed with eight players from each team — hitting in double figures. Rollins of Carrier Mills topped all point getters with 27.

Carrier Mills also scored a win in the preliminary game, coming from behind to take a 63-57 decision.

Galatia Warms Up for Tourney With 82-49 Win

Galatia's Bearcats warmed up for the coming All-Saline county tournament by throttling Rosiclare, 82-49, last night to post their ninth straight conference victory without defeat.

The visiting Bears, who had given the Farrismen their most difficult game in the conference tournament just last week were no match for the hot-shooting "Cats" last night.

Galatia swept into a 12-1 lead early in the fracas, and the Bears never drew closer than eight points thereafter. The Bearcats led 21-11 at the quarter and 39-20 at the intermission.

Sammy Duane pitched in six baskets in the third quarter, as the Rosiclare defense bogged down completely. Galatia wound up with a 62-35 advantage entering the final canto.

Both coaches substituted freely in the last quarter, with the reserves finishing the tilt. Galatia shot a fabulous 484, hitting 30 fielders in 62 attempts. Rosiclare connected on 19 of 66 from the field for a considerably lower 288 average.

During the intermission of the varsity game, the school's basketball queen, Marlene Edwards, was crowned by team captain Bob Orto. In a short ceremony, the queen and her attendants assumed their places on the gala decorated stage.

Satchel Paige is Released By Baltimore; Cardinals Sign Negro First Baseman

By United Press

The ancient, fabulous Leroy (Satchel) Paige apparently came to the end of the major-league trail with his outright release by the rebuilding Baltimore Orioles of the American League.

Paige "doesn't fit into our plans of rebuilding a young ball club," General Manager Art Ebers of the Orioles announced regrettably. "We decided to release him outright in view of his long service to baseball in order to give him an opportunity with other clubs."

Baseball men, however, expressed strong doubts that the venerable Negro star, whose age is strictly anybody's guess but is reckoned to be about 47, will be able to latch on with another major-league team.

Paige was not immediately available for comment on his future plans. His family in Kansas City said he was "off in Missouri or Kansas somewhere" and wasn't expected back for some time.

Achieved Three Goals

But Ol' Satch sensed his major-league number was up about three weeks ago when he hadn't received a contract in the mail like the other players. He said then that, if he couldn't stay in the majors he didn't want to go to the minors.

Paige leaves the majors with his three biggest goals achieved — (1) to play in the majors in the first place; (2) to pitch in a World Series (he hurled two-thirds of an inning in the 1948 series); and (3) to pitch in an All-Star game (he appeared briefly in the 1953 game).

Paige's overall major-league record, compiled in the fading years of his long and brilliant career, stands at 28 victories and 31 defeats. 3 5 11 1

On other fronts: The Philadelphia Phillies announced the signing of pitchers Murry Dickson and Tom Casanova bringing their contented list to 14. Dickson, obtained in a recent deal with the Pittsburgh Pirates, had a 10-19 record in 1953 but is expected to be the Phillies' fourth starting pitcher. Casanova had a 16-7 record with Schenectady.

Monie Irvin, their most effective hitter, signed with the New York Giants for an estimated $25,000. Outfielder Elmer Vaso and first-baseman Lou Limmer came to terms with the Philadelphia Athletics.

Cardinals Sign Negro
Rookies Ray Narleski (6-8 at Indianapolis), Bill Upton (10-6 with the same team) and shortstop Tom Kozowski, a draftee from Minneapolis, signed with the Cleveland Indians. They now have 10 players under contract.

The St. Louis Cardinals added the first Negro to their roster when they purchased first baseman Tom Alston from the San Diego Padres of the Pacific Coast League for $100,000, pitcher Ed Eruitt, first baseman Dick Sisler, and two more players to be named later. In addition, the Cards signed catcher Dick Rand and pitchers Tom Poholsky, Bob Tiefenauer, and Gary Blaylock.

At Newport, Pa., 23-game winner Robin Roberts of the Philadelphia Phillies was fined $15 for speeding in an automobile with teammates Curt Simmons and Del Ennis. Roberts, still unsigned, will have a chance to get his $15 back.

No Excuse for Soft-Heartedness to Hoodlums: Castle

CAIRO, Ill. (AP)—Atty. Gen. Latham Castle Tuesday told Illinois sheriffs "there is no excuse" for "soft-heartedness in handling the hardened syndicate hoodlum."

Castle said at the 16th annual convention of the Illinois Sheriffs' Assn., "The forces of law and order must prosecute the war on crime with the utmost vigor and determination."

"Wars are not won by slushy sentimentality and false pity," he said.

Castle said "there may be some excuse" for being lenient to "the individual offender or to the first offender."

"But there is no excuse for such soft-heartedness in handling the hardened syndicate hoodlum," he said. "To the hardened criminal such leniency only indicates weakness on the part of law enforcement officials."

Sheriff Allen A. Bell of Edgar county was elected president of the association Wednesday morning at the closing session. Sheriff Virgil Deusterhaus of Adams County was named vice-president and Edgar Hoffman, former Du Page county sheriff, was re-elected secretary-treasurer. Sheriff Earl Hembrough of Morgan county was elected to the executive committee.

Churchill Spikes Rumors He Will Retire

LONDON (AP)—Prime Minister Winston Churchill today spiked rumors he will retire soon by scheduling a speech for May 27. The opposition, Laborite press and many other sources had speculated that the Prime Minister would step down long before that date and not later than the date of Queen Elizabeth's return from her commonwealth tour early in May.

Churchill obviously was relishing the confusion he has raised among his opponents.

The wily Prime Minister still hasn't committed himself. But the general impression was he'd be around as the Queen's first minister for some time.

No Room for "Doom or Gloom"; Activities Here Indicate Progress

No "doom or gloom" is apparent in Harrisburg's immediate business forecast, a check of activities about the city reveals. In fact, business activity appears on the upward swing throughout the community although a new competitive spirit may be at hand.

In the downtown area alone, more than a half dozen new establishments have blossomed forth within the past few weeks or plan to open shortly. In addition, several businesses have expanded or moved into larger quarters.

Among the newcomers in downtown locations are:

1. Opening of a new television and commercial refrigeration sales and service headquarters by Charles E. Taylor in the building formerly occupied by Petty's Decorating Center on South Main street across from the Grand Theatre.

2. Opening of Tanner's Gift shop on West Poplar street just west of the Television building.

3. Opening of the downtown headquarters of Mitch Golish's music and record store on West Poplar street.

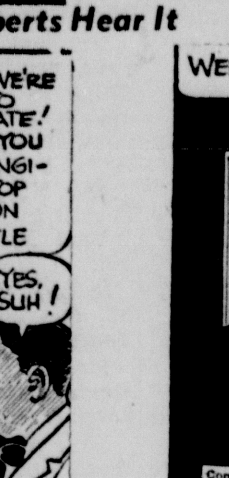

4. Opening of the Egyptian Supply company in the Raleigh building on South Vine street.

5. Re-location of Turner's Cafe in the old Hamilton building on West Church street across from Pankey's bakery, complete with new fixtures.

6. And, a gala opening planned soon for Abnormal Norm's TV sales and service store in the old C. V. Parker clothing store site at the southeast corner of the square.

Businesses enlarging their facilities or moving into expanded quarters within the last few months include:

High School Grads Eligible For Pilot Training

Young Americans looking forward to a flying future now have an opportunity to enter the United States Air Force pilot training program without waiting until after they have completed two years of college.

The basic requirements now call for the applicant to be a single male citizen between the ages of 19-26½, a high school graduate, and in good physical and mental health.

Pilot training consists of three months pre-flight, which is intensive officer training, orientation, and physical conditioning, flight screening and primary, which is six months of flying training, basic training, which is specialized training in either single or multi-engine aircraft, advanced training, which consists of 10 to 16 weeks of tactics, gunnery, rock-years, those in operation are providing steady and dependable employment with every indication that this will continue. New fields have been opened near Stonefort and in Gallatin county during the past year.

Discoveries of oil in the Green Hill area near Eldorado and also near Raleigh and the continued activity of the Gallatin county oil fields give hopes for a bright future for the area in this respect.

Farming — both livestock and grain — is showing rapid progress in the area. Farm organizations and a desire on the part of farm owners to learn new techniques, aided by the information disseminated by county agents, universities and farm advisers, is bringing the area forward in agricultural aspects.

Action to construct two new bridges — one across the Ohio river at Old Shawneetown and another across the Wabash near New Haven — should aid the entire area materially by providing new outlets to surrounding communities and also bring additional travel through the area.

All things considered, Harrisburg and area, with such continued forward progress, should not need fear "doom or gloom" except in the minds of pessimistic citizens.

Construction is also well underway on several large projects in the community, namely the new addition to the Junior high school and the re-building of the Presbyterian church, destroyed by fire just a year ago.

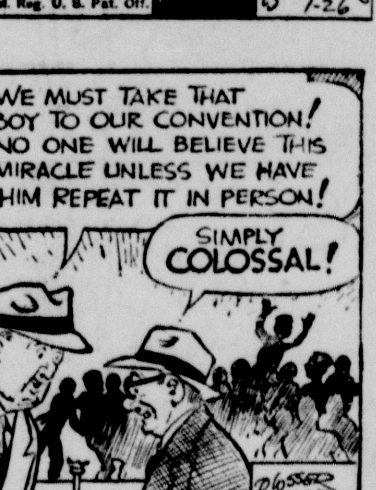

Major construction work is also in progress at the old Saline hotel building, which was purchased by the First Baptist church, and is being transformed into a modern church community building with ample classroom space.

Activity Shows Progress

Harrisburg's extensive housing projects — one in the Dorrisville area and the other in Byington's addition — have been completed, except for landscaping, and are already housing several families.

On the mining front, increased activity has been noted this year. Although the mines of the area are not as numerous as in former

Barrett Denies Boost in Auto Insurance Rates

SPRINGFIELD — State Insurance Director Robert E. Barrett today denied a request for a $5,700,000 annual hike in Illinois automobile liability insurance premiums.

Barrett said the rates proposed a 20 per cent overall increase for 149 companies which handle 35 per cent of the state's auto liability business. He termed the proposal "excessive."

The petition was filed Nov. 4 by the National Bureau of Casualty Underwriters. Barrett disapproved it Nov. 12 but held a hearing on it in his office Jan. 12 at the bureau's request.

Barrett said the proposal would have made a 33 per cent increase in premiums for motorists driving more than 10 miles to and from work at East St. Louis; 49 per cent, Peoria; 45 per cent, Bloomington, Danville, Decatur, Galesburg, Quincy, Rockford and Springfield; 50 per cent, Du Page County, Hinsdale and Lake County; 67 per cent Aurora, Batavia, Belleville, Elgin, Joliet, Moline and Rock Island; 65 per cent, Cairo, County.

Groom Designs His Bride's Gown

MEMPHIS, Tenn. — Superstition got a slap in the face when William O'Bryan married Helen Demas.

O'Bryan not only saw his bride-to-be in her wedding dress before the ceremony—he designed it.

O'Bryan drew the sketch of the gown in one afternoon. It took the bride's mother, Mrs. Nick Demas, three months to copy it in satin and lace.

Designing dresses is nothing new to O'Bryan. He's been sketching dresses and hats ever since he was big enough to hold a pencil.

When he was 16, O'Bryan entered a dress design contest sponsored by the Memphis Press-Scimitar and won first prize. The next year, O'Bryan placed first again, and was given a scholarship to the Memphis Academy of Arts.

O'Bryan's first job at 18 was designing dresses for a leading manufacturer. He was drafted into the Army just as his sketches were being made into thousands of popularly priced dresses.

O'Bryan has re-enlisted for a new tour of duty, but his bride hopes he'll keep in practice by designing dresses for her.

The WASHINGTON MERRY-GO-ROUND

By DREW PEARSON

DREW PEARSON Says: Senators Bang Fists Over Alaska; Friendship Of Two Rotarian Senators Upsets Republican High Command; Battle Over Two Alaskan Senate Disrupts Secret Committee Session.

WASHINGTON. — Only an angry rumble could be heard through the heavy mahogany doors, but Senate Interior committee members pounded on the table and roared at each other last week in a free-for-all over Hawaiian-Alaskan statehood.

It is strictly against Senate rules for one senator to question another's motives. Yet, at one point, Chairman Hugh Butler of Nebraska angrily accused those who had thwarted him on Hawaii of "some ulterior purpose." Meek-mannered Frank Barrett, Wyoming Republican, also turned red in the face and shouted: "I may be against the whole works before we get through with it — Alaska, Hawaii, and the whole damned mess!"

What set off the fireworks was a neat parliamentary move by Senator Clint Anderson, New Mexico Democrat, which tied Hawaiian and Alaskan statehood together. This upset GOP strategy to push through statehood for Hawaii but not Alaska, with its two probable Democratic senators.

Republican leaders thought they had all the needed votes ready, but were flabbergasted when Idaho's conservative GOP Senator Henry Dworshak jumped the traces and voted with the Democrats to keep Hawaii and Alaska together in one bill.

The resulting blow-up rocked the secret hearing, but this column can report what happened.

CHAIRMAN FLUSHES

Chairman Butler, flushed with anger, rasped: "I want to say for the record that I am keenly disappointed at (this) action. . . I think it is irregular and is done for some ulterior purpose. I am frank in that I think you are doing an unfriendly act to the territory of Hawaii."

Senator Long of Louisiana, a Democrat who had earlier switched to the Republicans, was also irritated by the surprise vote.

"I will be very frank," he said, "that as far as I am concerned, I anticipate there may be a filibuster on this bill, and if there is a filibuster . . ."

"I object to such remarks," blurted Senator Dworshak heatedly. "I do not want motives impugned by any member of this committee."

"I did not impugn your motives," snapped the Louisiana senator.

"I do not regret what I said," shouted Dworshak, pounding the table with his fist. "I have heard for several years around here that everybody is in favor of statehood. I think that every member of the Senate ought to have an opportunity on the floor to come out for or against statehood . . . and not just continue to talk from now until doomsday about being for statehood for this territory and statehood for that territory without being courageous enough to go on the record."

FRIENDS IN ROTARY

"I am fearful," broke in Senator Guy Cordon, Oregon Republican, "that this motion will prejudice Alaskan statehood. I shall vote for it because, since we now find ourselves more or less tied in knots with personality questions and motives involved, I think it is better that we take the matter to the floor of the Senate."

"Mr. Chairman, I think it is unfortunate that there have been any remarks impugning anybody's motives," muttered Senator Malone. There was so much ranting and raving going on, however, that Malone's mumbled remarks couldn't be clearly heard, and at one point Butler shouted: "Loud-cr, please, George!"

The most withering blast, however, was aimed at Senator Anderson by the ruffled Republican senator from Wyoming. Anderson, a Democrat, is a former international president of Rotary and was given credit for changing the Republican vote of Senator Dworshak, an international director of Rotary.

"I think this committee is not proceeding as it agreed to proceed when we went to Alaska," thundered the usually mild Senator Barrett of the rugged state of Wyoming. "I would not have taken the time to go up to Alaska if I knew you were going to by-pass the whole works. To take the judgment of Senator Anderson and put him as over and above this whole committee does not look good to me; I will tell you that, and I do not like it. I don't think it is playing fair, and I do not think he is doing what he said he would do in Alaska on this matter. I may be against the whole works before we get through with it — Alaska, Hawaii, and the whole damned mess!"

"Just a moment, please," shouted Butler, rapping his gavel.

BUTLER WAS BOXED

One reason that Chairman Butler was so upset over combining Hawaiian and Alaskan statehood was that earlier in the hearing, he had committed himself to vote for Alaska. He had felt this was perfectly safe at the time, not then knowing that Dworshak was ready to switch his vote. Before the Dworshak vote-switch, Butler had announced:

"Gentlemen, I have a short statement to make at this time. Due to the fact that I haven't my new glasses yet, I will ask Stewart French (committee clerk) to read it to me."

The clerk then proceeded to read a statement from Butler: "I have decided to vote to report the (Alaskan) bill out of committee. By that vote, I do not necessarily commit myself as to how I shall vote on the Senate floor on the question of final passage . . . but there is no question about the fact that Alaska is entitled to statehood at the earliest possible date at which they can make a go of it."

This meant that Butler would bring Alaskan statehood out as a separate bill, so it could be defeated by a separate Senate vote. He did not expect the two territories later to be linked together.

Realizing that the Republicans were determined to kill Alaska and its two probable Democratic senators, Washington's Democratic Senator Henry "Scoop" Jackson asked whether the White House would veto Alaska statehood.

"As far as the chair is concerned," replied Butler, "he has no assurance whatsoever of what the action of the White House will be on either bill."

"The President has announced he is in favor of statehood for Hawaii," Jackson reminded him.

"But what he does to a bill that passes the Senate is a different thing," argued Butler. "The President is in favor of statehood for Hawaii and I am not sure that he is not in favor of statehood for Alaska under the right kind of bill."

"He has never indicated he would be for the right kind of bill. He has said nothing," shot back Jackson.

"I think," broke in Malone, "as long as this matter has reached the impasse that it has, you have a chance right here to uphold and promote the platforms of both parties. It seems a little unusual that we would single out one territory in favor of the other."

In the end, the committee by a 8-7 margin, voted as Malone urged — to keep the two territories in the same bill.

Army Increases Use of Plastics

WASHINGTON (AP)—Plastics are replacing metals to an increasing degree in the economy-minded U. S. army.

Substitutes for steel, aluminum, wood, and leather are more durable and weigh less than items they replace, and they can save materials which become critical in wartime. They also have high resistance to rot and corrosion.

The Army's plastic items include cups, bowls, tumblers and five-compartment mess trays, all used daily in messhalls. The plastic tableware is virtually nonbreakable and much lighter than the thick chinaware and metals they replaced. Food also stays hotter longer in plastic containers.

The Signal Corps has found plastic radio antennae lighter and cheaper than the steel formerly used. It also uses plastic telephone hand sets on "handy talkie" and "walkie talkie" radios and plastic jackets to cover rubber insulation on wire and cable.

During the Korean fighting, the Ordnance Corps adopted a land mine weighing four and one-half ounces. It is small enough to be carried in the palm of the hand but powerful enough to blow off the foot of anyone who steps on it. The case is made of a glass fiber-reinforced plastic. It contains slightly more than one ounce of high explosive tetryl.

It costs $2.50 compared with $13 paid during World War II for its nine-pound predecessor but inflicts just as much damage as the heavy mine. Being non-metallic, it cannot be located by a mine detector.

Other plastic items currently undergoing tests in Army research laboratories are assault boats weighing between 20 and 300 pounds and capable of carrying 15 men, pontoons for floating bridges, and plastic lockers to replace foot lockers used in soldiers' barracks and the locker trunks used for shipping their equipment.

File Anti-Trust Charges Against Four Pencil Firms

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Justice Department today charged the four largest domestic pencil manufacturers with conspiring to fix prices in violation of the anti-trust laws.

The department filed in U. S. Federal Court in Newark, N. J., two actions—criminal charges and a civil anti-trust complaint—asking the court to break up the alleged conspiracy.

Named as defendants were the American Lead Pencil Co., Hoboken, N. J.; Joseph Dixon Crucible Co., Jersey City, N. J.; the Eagle Pencil Co., New York; and the Eberhard Faber Pencil Co., Brooklyn, N. Y.

The department said these companies make about 50 per cent of all lead pencils sold in this country and about 75 per cent of all pencils exported to the four companies of it accused to fix prices on their leading brands of lead pencils, to rig bids and to allocate pencil sales to local government agencies and to large industrial users.

Bride is Also Soloist At Her Wedding

ALTON, Ill. (AP)—Mrs. Kenneth Lawson has revealed how she was able to be both bride and soloist at her recent wedding.

A short time before the wedding at the Upper Alton Baptist church was to get under way, she received a telephone call from the scheduled male singer. He couldn't make it—laryngitis.

Mrs. Lawson, a voice student at Shortt College when she was Evelyn Broyles, was equal to the emergency.

She and the bridegroom exchanged vows to the music of her own voice on a tape recording she had made previously. Fortunately, she had recorded "Always" and "Through the Years."

HOLLYWOOD TODAY!

MOVIES - TV - RADIO
by Erskine Johnson

HOLLYWOOD — (NEA) — Behind the Screen: The most shocking rumor of a spotless new year in Hollywood is that movietown studios are going along with the Egyptian government's invitation to make pictures there provided that no actors or technicians of the Hebrew faith (or ancestry) are brought along with the Hollywood crews.

Even with the explanation that Egypt is at odds with the Israeli government, a ban against Americans of any faith by another country is an outrage. The great actors and craftsmen of Hebrew ancestry in Hollywood have nothing to do with Israeli-Egyptian politics.

Hollywood should cancel all production plans in Egypt, no matter how advantageous the natural locales may be, if General Naguib persists in this reported discrimination against Americans.

Marilyn Monroe can top Marlene Dietrich's $30,000 per week at the Hotel Sahara in Las Vegas any time she says "Yes." The Las Vegas offer, and another for $50,000 per week, plus percentages, for Miss Crazy Hips to play the Chicago Theater, are the key to the strategy of her agents in boosting her salary from $1,000 to $3,000 per week at Fox. This salary battle now has her on suspension at the studio.

June Haver's ready for that full-scale comeback. She now has a press agent. A radio version of Wally Cox's TV hit, "Mr. Peepers," is being planned.

Gus Van (remember Van and Schenck?) is completing his autobiography, "Sing, Sucker, Sing," and admits it will be offered to Hollywood. Gus lives in semi-retirement at Normandy Shores in Miami. Patrice Wymore has notified choreographer John Gregory that she will be back in the U. S. with tiny Arnella Roma Flynn in February or March to prepare a dance act for theaters and nightclubs. The Flynn heiress will visit Pat's parents in Kansas. HAD TO MAKE CHOICE

SAUCER-EYED Rita Gam, the gorgeous discovery from TV who made headlines without saying a word in Ray Milland's dialog-less movie, "The Thief," walked out of an MGM contract, and a big star build-up, it now can be told, because she had to choose between the studio and her husband.

Explaining for the first time why she never reported to the studio after melting the celluloid in "The Thief," Rita told me: "I never should have signed that MGM contract. I wanted to commute to Hollywood from New York, where my husband (Sidney Lumet, director of TV's "You Are There") has to live because of his work.

"When the studio said I would have to live in Hollywood, I refused. I told them I loved my husband and that I wouldn't jeopardize our marriage with a separation. The studio finally agreed to tear up my contract if I'd do one movie in Europe.

"I'm not anti-Hollywood. I want to go on making movies. But I want to be with my husband in New York when I'm not working."

Now playing the wild daughter of Attila, the Hun who threatens to conquer Rome in U-I's "Sign of the Pagan," Rita's happy. She'll return to New York the day the film is completed, and she won't be back in Hollywood until there's another role for her.

ALMOST A RECORD
PAUL GILBERT, the bright comic who zoomed sky-high on NBC's Night Revue last summer, is courting a beauty who may become his EIGHTH wife.

Susan Hayward, it's said, will ask to be excused from the starring role in "Untamed" in order to fight Jess Barker in his money-and-child custody demands. It's the role Susan has been waiting for, but it would take her to Africa for months.

Time flies dept.: Charlie Chaplin, Jr., is sporting gray hair at the temples.

Honor 35th Wedding Anniversary Of Mr. and Mrs. W. B. Riegel

Mr. and Mrs. Grant Riegel entertained several members of the Riegel clan Saturday evening with a dinner party and TV show in honor of the 35th wedding anniversary of his parents, Mr. and Mrs. W. B. Riegel.

Although jade is the prescribed gift for such a celebration, more utilitarian packages were brought. The guests, interested in the WSIL-TV polio benefit telethon, stayed until a late hour.

Those attending were Mrs. Mary Riegel, Mr. and Mrs. W. W. Riegel, Mr. and Mrs. Roy Riegel, Mr. and Mrs. W. B. Riegel, Mr. and Mrs. A. J. Drott, Mr. and Mrs. Paul R. Drott and family, Mr. and Mrs. John C. Small and family, Mr. and Mrs. Alex Kriculi, Mr. and Mrs. Stanley Drott and family of East St. Louis, Mr. and Mrs. Richard Harper of Harrisburg and the host and hostess and son, Lowell.

Good Neighbor Club Meets With Mrs. Paul R. Drott
Mrs. Paul R. Drott was hostess to the Good Neighbor club Wednesday. The meeting opened with the mountain climbing.

"Anapurna," repeated the doll. "I don't think so. You see one of those Italian glamor girls and you've seen them all."

Marlene Dietrich may join Alan Ladd in the remake of "The Covered Wagon." With La Dietrich's bare-bosom gown at Las Vegas recently, and Alan's fondness for showing his virile chest, they ought to call it "The Uncovered Wagon."

First Toothbrush
The toothbrush is said to have been invented by William Addis, a convict in a London prison. Convicted in the Gordon riots of 1780, he made the first toothbrush in his cell from a bone he found in his prison food, and some bristles from a scrubbing brush.

Approximately 50 per cent of U. S. pulpwood and 50 per cent of its lumber is supplied by the South.
